

Get your website tooled up

Small businesses and accountancy firms can benefit from Bizezia – the brainchild of Martin Pollins, a chartered accountant – which provides 'online management tools for professional services'. For a subscription fee, firms can incorporate a wealth of online features into their own websites, providing their clients with various useful tools to help them run their businesses. These include 30 types of financial calculator and a tax calendar, which displays the relevant dates throughout the year – handy in view of the imminent changes to income tax filing deadlines.

www.bizezia.com

